A BIG HEARTED MAN.

WILDIE, KY., Oct. 17, 1901.
EDITOR SIGNAL,
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Dear Sir: If you will allow me the space, I would like to relate a few things in regard to Mr. A. W. Stewart, the candidate for sheriff, for the benefit of those who do not personally know him. In the first place I will say, that he is entirely too good a man to get mixed up in politics, but on the other hand, I will add, the very kind of a man we need, who will honestly and honorably transact the business for the people of the county, if elected to that important office—sheriff. Of all the kind and open-hearted men, it has been my pleasure to know, I recall none, who surpass him in doing deeds of charity or in always being ready to lend a helping hand to the needy.

Warren and Bettie Fish, two old colored People, who at one time belonged to the old Haley family, sometime before their death became very feeble and were unable to care for themselves, and A. W. Stewart took them, furnished them a house, provision to eat and fuel to burn and provided for them in every way until their death, for which he never received a penny.

When old man Jim Henry had his house, house-hold goods, provision and everything burned, he being unable to work, asked the people for assistance, but all in vain, and then it was he went to that man, who is now asking your suffrage for the office of sheriff, and found relief, not only with provision, but even money with which to buy the necessities of life.

When the son of Uriah Richmond was on the bed of affliction, and nearing death's door, for the want of medical attention, which the father was unable to secure, because of his poverty, A. W. Stewart came to his rescue, paid the doctor and druggist's bill and saved the young man's life. When old man Bert Rodgers was laying sick and helpless without a handfull of provision in his house, A. W. Stewart heard of his wretched condition, and immediately rushed to his assistance furnishing such things as he needed until his recovery. Boon Gabbard had cancer on his mouth and was unable to have it treated, because he had no money to pay for it, and nothing to offer as security, but alas; when nearly every hope had vanished, that "big-hearted" man, A. W. Stewart stepped to the front and said, "I will pay the bill" and Gabbard was cured.

Aunt Pegie Bullen, a childish old woman, who had no home, and who died only three week ago, was taken over five years ago, furnished a house, provision and medicine, during the entire time, for which he received no pay and wanted none.

When misfortune befell the family of the late J. R. Gatliff, A. W. Stewart was the first to their relief. Besides furnishing the timber to build them a house, furnishing teams to do the hauling and a contribution of money, he was also instrumental in making up about $100 for this large family of fatherless and homeless children.

I could relate many other grand and noble deeds of charity, but useless. Mr. Stewart has been drawn into this race for sheriff by men from all political parties, and should he be elected, he will not, in the performance of his duty or the execution of papers, show more favors to one political party than the other; that he is liberal in his views is exemplified in the distribution of his charitable deeds, which proves conclusively that his favours are not done in a political way, but regardless of politics or religious faith. If any one doubts the truthfulness of my statements, go ask the parties referred to, and see if I have not spoken facts. Gentlemen; this is too good a man and will make too good an officer to be defeated. Let him be elected and you will see an officer, who will hold honor above money; who will honorably help to build up the county, who will execute the papers, who will collect the taxes in a quiet and agreeable way and pay off the claims promptly, without being chased from one side of the county to the other and dunned many times. With the finance, of Rockcastle in his hands every man can feel perfectly safe about it. Good people, you cannot afford to vote against such a man. He has been drawn into this political strife, by a host of friends, regardless of politics, and if elected, which now seems a certainty, he will serve regardless of political affiliations.

Yours Truly,
W. H. JONES.

THE Democrats, of Rockcastle county, ask for only one of the county offices, that of sheriff. The other candidates, we have given no opposition. Experience and observation have shown that it is wise for the people, not to have all the offices filled with those of the same political faith. In the affairs of our government, from Washington down to Roosevelt we find, that while the presidency was filled by democrats many offices were filled with republicans, and while the Presidential chair, was filled by republicans, many democrats held places of profit and trust. President Roosevelt has just appointed a democrat as Federal Judge in Atabama, and Roosevelt himself held office under Cleveland a democrat.

In our own county, a mixture of officers politically has proved a blessing. Each is a salutary check on the other; neither can do wrong without the knowledge of the other—so all keep in proper paths. Then there are nearly 1,000 democrats in Rockcastle county, and when they make no protest against republicans having six of the county offices, ought they not have one? And especially so, when we present to you an honest, sober up-right, christian gentleman to fill that office, a man of business capacity, a man not given to vice who neither drinks nor gives his neighbor drink. With an honest intent to do his full duty, without partiality and without favor, elect Gus Stewart and we will have a sheriff, of whom no man will be ashamed, but of whom all will be proud. He has the courage to arrest your desperadoes and violators of law, he will not shield the guilty, but will be a shield to the innocent. If you wish to know the man go ask those who live about him. They will tell you he is kind to the unfortunate, a helper of the poor. Elect him and he will bend not "the pregnant knee that thrift may fall a fawning."

THE jury for the second trial of Caleb Powers, for the murder of Gov. Goebel has been secured and the evidence is being heard. Nearly 400 men were examined before they were able to find twelve men, who were eligible to sit as jurors in the case, which after being accepted, was challenged as a whole by the defense for political bias and partisan fixing of the jury wheel. That there may be some, who would be willing to see either Powers, Taylor or Finley unjustly punished, as well as some, who would not be willing to see them punished, even though they were proven beyond a question of a doubt guilty, is unquestionable, but with the good, sober thinking people, regardless of political belief, such a spirit ceases to exist, if ever it did, and they are demanding that these men be given fair and impartial trials. If guilty, punish them as the law directs, if not guilty let twelve good men say so and thoroughly vindicate them from any charge. To take the liberties wrongfully, of any man is a horrible thing, while on the other hand it is almost as bad to knowingly fail to punish the guilty. Justice to all men, is one of the firm foundations upon which this great country of ours was established, and every breach of that law is one step towards tearing asunder this great land of liberty. If Powers can prove his innocence we say, Amen, if not punish him according to the crime which he has committed.

PRESIDENT LORENZO SNOW, of the Mormon church died at his home in Salt Lake City. The greatness of the Mormon leader was appreciated only by those who have seen and known him.

Brodhead, Ky., Oct. 15, 1901.

To MR. H. L. TATE:

You were charged before and since the primary with various things; such as having collected money and not paying the same over; that you denied having it and Mr. Catron was forced to pay it for you, to save himself from a rule. You were also charged with a failure to make a bond as deputy sheriff. You were also charged with having collected taxes and written receipts and yet made no account for the money collected. You were charged with having advised certain parties for whom you had writs to leave the county or you would have to arrest them; you were charged with having carried writs for others and met them time and again in the road and around Orlando and yet never arrest them, although you had a warrant directing you to do so.

As a republican, I now call upon you to vindicate yourself as you have promised to do. If you clear up the charges, I shall cast my vote for you. You promised to do so as soon as the primary was over, but so far I have failed to see any attempt to vindicate yourself. I have the kindest of feeling for you and desire to see you clear them up.

T. C. JOHNSON.

MT. VERNON, KY., OCT. 16, 1901.

MR. EDITOR ALBRIGHT:

I want as an humble citizen, to write Mr. Lee Tate through your paper and ask him to clear up the very damaging charges made before the primary, which he said he would explain and make other parties take their statements back or sue them. No suit has been brought although it has been four months since they were openly made. No card denying the charges have appeared in either one of our valuable county papers, although many editions have come out. I am a republican and always desire to support the nominee and will state now, that I am for you if you will come out through the columns of the papers and clear yourself, or have those officers who knew all about the charges, to come out and say that the statements are not true. As an humble voter I ask you to show the people that the charges are not so.

Washington Letter.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14, 1901.

Mr. Roosevelt is feeling his political oats, so to speak, and is beginning to show something like his old prancing form. He invited every member of the Republican National Committee to come and see him; many of them have already done so and all of them will. His ostensible object in inviting these men is to talk over the political situation in their respective States, its bearing on Federal appointment etc., but the talk isn't confined to their state. It has leaked out from a word dropped here and there by the committeemen to Washington friends that Mr. Roosevelt gives each of them an opportunity to say whether he will follow Senator Hanna or himself when it comes to supporting a candidate for the next republican Presidential nomination and getting delegates chosen to the national convention. The opportunity is not given by any direct implication that he expects to be a candidate or that he expects Senator Hanna to be, but by tactful hints, indicating the possibility that Senator Hanna and himself might differ as to who ought to receive the nomination. It is understood that most of the committeemen have left Mr. Roosevelt under the impression that they would be with him, but that very few of them have actually committed themselves. Most of them are old hands at the game of politics and are wary about binding themselves so far ahead.

Rear Admiral Crownshield, chief of the bureau of Navigation, called in derision the "bureau of fabrication," because of its part in the conspiracy against Schley, makes a strong bid for Congressional favor by recommending in his annual report that beginning with the Congress soon to assemble the number of cadets at Annapolis be increased so as to allow each Senator, Representative, and Delegate to appointments, the District of Columbia one, and the President ten. He says the increase is necessary because under present laws forty officers are retired every year while the Annapolis Academy only turns out ten a year. He also seeks additional rank for favorites by recommending that four vice admirals be created. If Congress should act favorably upon the last recommendation before February, when Sampson will retire, it is likely that an attempt would be made by the Navy Department to make Sampson, who is now at his Washington home and practically an insane man for hours at a time and will never be able to return to active duty, one of the vice admirals.

Senator McLaurin has the same control of S. C., Federal appointments that he had under the McKinley regime. This was made certain by Mr. Roosevelt several days ago. Sometime ago Mr. McLaurin got Louis Blalock selected for appointment as collector of internal revenue. That brought A. E. Gates to Washington, to protest in the name of the republican State organization against the appointment. After making the protest Gates and Blalock made a deal, the protest was withdrawn and an endorsement substituted. That brought Mr. McLaurin to Washington, and he had Blalock's name wiped off the slate and that of Dr. V. P. Clayton substituted. That caused Gates to free his mind by saying: "Senator McLaurin, seems to be able to keep the inside track in dispensing South Carolina patronage. We understood that the appointment of Mr. Blalock was assured, but it was changed by methods of which we do not approve. Dr. Clayton is a nice man enough but with all the patronage of the internal revenue office, he can't swing four counties of South Carolina to his way of thinking when the national convention meets in 1904. The control of the South Carolina patronage will never afford Senator McLaurin any strength. He cannot be reelected by virtue of it." McLaurin got further into Mr. Roosevelt's good graces by endorsing R. O. Stewart, a relative of Mr. Roosevelt, for postmaster at Newbury.

If W. F. Wakeman president of the American Protective Association, is reappointed Appraiser of the port of New York. Mr. Roosevelt may have to get a new Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Gage long ago became disgusted with Wakeman's management of his office, which is an important one, by reason of the numerous complaints made against him by New York merchants, and will oppose his reappointment, while ex-Secretary Bliss, who was responsible for Wakeman's appointment in the first place, and who is an old personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt's, is demanding that he be reappointed. The place being under the Treasury Department, Secretary Gage would have a right to be offended if his wishes are ignored.

With his reputation as a trust lawyer it is not surprising that Attorney Gen. Knox should have rendered an opinion that this government had no authority to prevent Millionaire Mackay and his associates, supposed to be the Postal Telegraph Company, laying a cable to or from any old place, and landing upon and territory belonging to the U. S. This is more than Mackay claimed, and he probably took good legal counsel before he showed his hand. He claimed that the President had authority to grant permission to make the Pacific cable landing. It must strike even the most casual observer that republican administrations are never able to find authority for interfering with projects proposed by the millionaire element, while they never fail to find authority to head off anything calculated to injure the poor down-trodden millionaires, even if the constitution has to be stretched almost to the breaking point to do it.

Representative Warner, of Ill., is one of the republicans who is wise enough to see that unless his party revises the tariff at the coming of Congress, the world will turn the job over to a democratic majority in the next Congress. He very frankly said on the subject: "It would be well for us to undertake that work before the other fellows are allowed by the country to do for us."

All Washington is laughing at Senator "Billy" Mason and his Change-while-you-wait on the question of the new Isthmian canal treaty with England. At his first interview he told Mr. Roosevelt that he was opposed to any canal treaty with England, no matter what its conditions were. Mr. Roosevelt said a few things to him, and the next day Senator "Billy" called at the White House to tell Mr. Roosevelt that he had no idea of opposing the ratification of the treaty by the Senate.

If Senator Lodge had any idea of becoming chairman of the Senate committee on Foreign Relations he will be disappointed. Senator Frye, to whom the chairmanship would go under the seniority rule, will have his hands full as President pro-tem, there being no Vice President, and chairman of the committee on commerce, and has announced his intention to waive his right to the chairmanship, but Senator Cullom who comes next, says he wants it, and that settles it.

Having become satisfied that he had no case, Judge Advocate Lemley tried abuse of Mr. Rayner, Schley's chief counsel, and was promptly informed that what he said was false, and that he would be told the same thing outside of the court room. For a minute or two it looked like "pistols and coffee for two" might follow, but Admiral Dewey took a hand in the game and straightened things out, after which Lemley and Rayner apologized for the personal language. Capt. Chadwick, who was Sampson's chief of staff, disingued himself by showing more personal animosity to Schley, while on the stand than any witness has yet done, although several young officers, especially one Potts, made asses of themselves.

POWERS' TRIAL.

On Tuesday last, the jury was secured and the trial of Caleb Powers began in earnestness. The second day of the trial thirteen witnesses were examined, including Edward Steffy, who testified that he was offered $15 by a friend of Powers' to go to the office of a certain Louisville newspaper, and make a statement that he had perjured himself on the first trial of Powers. Dr. S. P. Simmons, of Louisville, was named as the man who made the proposition. Wednesday, a large number of witnesses were heard, the star witness being Isaac Hopkins, Deputy Sheriff and Deputy Assessor of Bell county who testified that Wharton Golden told him that Goebel was to be killed next day and by Yontsey, that his office depended upon Goebel's life and every thing was in readiness. The State will close its testimony to day.

The Board of the Masonic Home has refused to let the Grand Lodge have $200,000 with which to build the new Masonic Temple. The Masonic Home will be called upon to give over the $90,000 belonging to the Grand Lodge, and the remaining $110,000 will be borrowed from local banks.

MARSHAL.—T. J. Pennington has authorized us to say, that he is a candidate for Marshal of Mt. Vernon, subject to the will of the people. Jeff is sober, honest and upright, and if elected, will fulfill every duty involved upon him, and if we expect to have a good corporation—the only kind to have—it is very necessary to have a good marshal.

FIRST CLASS.—The entertainment given at the college Tuesday night by Chief Rolling Bear, the Indian Medicine Man, was first class and greatly enjoyed by all, who attended. Eugene Mullins and Victor Tate, who acted the parts of the colored servant and Pat, the Irishman were strikingly good; this being the first attempt of the boys at any thing of the kind.

LEGISLATURE.—Mr. C. S. Bowling, of Pittsburg, has announced himself as a candidate for the legislature, on the democrat ticket, for the counties of Laurel and Rockcastle, against the Hon. Ed Parker, of London. While Mr. Bowling is a mighty nice fellow, and would make a good representative, yet, the republican odds in the two counties are too great to expect a very favorable result.

'CAN'T Afford TO Paint'

THE man who says that, forgets that painting properly done is economy, and the fact is he can't afford NOT to paint. HOW often you require to paint is largely dependent upon the paint you use.

The Sherman-Williams Paints

out last others. They are the most economical paints you can use, because they cover most and wear longest. Add to this their good appearance, and you have perfect paints—THE SHERMAN-WILLIAMS PAINTS.

They are made for many different kinds of painting. Whatever it is you want to paint—a house, or anything in or out of the house—we make the right paint for that particular purpose—not one slap-dash mixture for all.
